GLENDALE

FINE YIELD OF WHEAT

V. E. Messinger, one of Glendale's old-timers, who was for several years head of Glendale's department of the Federal government and the town's first city clerk, brought in a bushel of wheat Monday that demonstrates pretty conclusively what can be done in the Salt River Valley in producing the world's staff of life.

This wheat was grown on Mr. Messinger's ranch, which is located on Skunk Creek at the end of the Arizona canal, and which is being tilled by Stafford brothers. Thirty acres of the ranch was planted to wheat and the same amount to oats. The wheat is turning out about 20 to 25 bushels of 130 pounds each and at the present rate of output the spuds will yield about one hundred dollars net per acre.

Commenting upon different crops as a money producer Mr. Messinger remarked that he thought the safer proposition for the farmers to give their attention to old established crops instead of spending so much time, money and energy experimenting with uncertainties. We can produce here all the established money producing crops so why take chances with the uncertain article. We can do all the experimenting in the way of improving and increasing the yield, and herein lies our salvation.

a rear door and marched upon the stage, preceded by Principal Weinland, who with Rev. Ray C. Harker of Phoenix occupied a position at one end of the stage.

The first number of the program was the salutatory by Daniel Thompson, who in a carefully prepared reading made all welcome.

This was followed by the school history by Dorothea Osborn, which not only contained a fund of information in which was depicted the school's struggle for existence during the early days and its phenomenal growth in more recent years, but was also full of wit and humor.

Next was the commencement song, by the graduating class, followed by the class prophecy by Mable Morick, who told what each member of the class was doing in 1930. History of the American flag was given by Ezra Weed, while the flag was presented to the seventh grade by Lawrence Hood and accepted by Webster Thompson, who presided on behalf of his class to guard and protect its honor as faithfully as had the eighth.

Theron McKisson gave a splendid historical essay upon the Panama canal, in a few words of safe counsel to each. W. H. Bartlett presented the diplomas, after which Lois Perkins delivered the valedictory. This was splendidly prepared and perfectly delivered. Some of the things said by Miss Perkins were: "All great achievements have a foundation, and this grammar school work is a part of the foundation of our career. Now that we have won these first steps we are eager to follow our class motto, 'Not at the top, but climbing' and go higher."

"In the lower grades we did not realize what our education meant to use and had to be urged. But now we more fully understand what it will be to us and so need no urging other than our ambitions."

"We all need and are encouraged by any rewards given us, and the diplomas which we have received here tonight should serve not only as a reward for the eight years of study we have satisfactorily accomplished, but as a stimulus for higher efforts."

"It is always with regret that we bid farewell to old associations, old friends and old school, but we say good-bye to our schoolmates with the expectation of again being associated together in the higher schools."

Rev. Ray C. Harker of Phoenix delivered the commencement address, which was replete with good sound common sense and advice to the youngsters taking a most important step in life.

Among the graduates was one pupil who was presented with a medal for a most unusual attainment, that of having attended one school for a period of five years without missing a single day. This award went to Lawrence Hood.

Residing the numbers given by the graduates was special music given by Miss Morrison, Miss Brewster and Ralph Reed of Glendale, Miss Cannon at the piano.

Dr. E. Otto and family left Tuesday morning for a trip to Roosevelt, returning the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Patterson entertained and served dinner Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. John J. Birdino and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Foster, of Phoenix, being guests.

The funeral services for the small son of Mr. and Mrs. John Contreras were conducted today from the Catholic church.

WOODMAN SOCIAL WEDNESDAY

Next Wednesday evening, June 2, Glendale Camp of the Woodmen of the World will entertain their families and Phoenix Woodmen and families in the Glendale Hardware company rooms.

During the past three months the local club has made a phenomenal growth, and this entertainment is in celebration of the membership campaign just coming to a close, which has resulted in bringing the membership up to and beyond the hundred mark.

A splendid program has been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors who come to help local chop-choppers make merry.

A number of live wires from Phoenix camp have been secured to make ten-minute talks upon woodcraft, which include a reading by Prof. A. L. Higgins, financial responsibilities of life W. O. W.; by Hon. James Westcott, Women's Sphere in Woodcraft; by Hon. Thos. W. Nealon; The Younger Element in Woodcraft; by Prof. E. H. Matthews; Twenty Years a Woodman; Dr. H. A. Hughes; Aspirations of Woodcraft in Arizona; Senator H. A. Davis; Special Presentation, Hon. Thomas W. Nealon.

The house will be called to order by Consul Commander John McCoy at 8 o'clock sharp, when Mayor John M. Pearson will extend a welcome to the visitors. District Organizer Stuart will respond, after which he will be master of ceremonies for the evening.

The entertainment committee is working on the musical part of the program, which will include violin, vocal and piano solos and male quartets, so that the evening will be full until a late hour and all will be entertained.

The inauguration of the campaign for the selling of the tickets for the Moose race which are to be held in Phoenix on Monday, May 31, has been successfully launched; for in addition to the number which several of the merchants have taken to dispose of the following young ladies have entered the selling campaign with a great deal of enthusiasm, as a result of which Mesa will be credited with a considerably larger sale of the tickets. The young ladies who are now in the contest are Misses Dorris Robertson, Grace Rogers and Arton Clark.

Through the efforts of the members of the Commercial club who have taken the initiative in the work on this side of the river; the work here is being successfully carried on, and it is now reasonably certain that substantial aid to the fund for the sending of the delegates to San Diego, when the count is made and it is turned in to the hands of the committee who have the matter in charge.

ON MISSION FOR FAIR

W. R. Stewart, C. S. Baldwin, R. E. Steadman and Secretary H. Q. Robertson of the Commercial club were in the Capital city yesterday morning with the members of the board of supervisors for the purpose of obtaining a county appropriation for the midsummer fair which is soon to be held here.

Prof. Morgan, manual arts teacher in the high school, left Wednesday for Chicago, where he will spend his summer vacation.

C. H. Peck was in from his ranch two miles west, Monday, with a load of fresh fruit.

People handling the fruit from the Neatrath orchard say that they cannot gather the apricots fast enough to supply the demand and at six cents per pound, as yet none of this fruit has been offered on the local market. It is probable, however, that within another week some of the fruit from this and other orchards will be available at canning prices, which range from one and a half to two and a half cents per pound.

William Wegold and A. H. Schmoecker were business visitors in the Capital city Wednesday.

Lionel Kendrick, Gordon Kendrick, Carl Betts and Tom Reardon composed a party to Roosevelt Sunday, returning Tuesday.

Miss Anna Green has been in the city several times during the present week, for it keeps him pretty busy coming to market to keep his thrashing and head-end outfits which he started Tuesday, supplied with provisions. The first crop harvested was that of Ed Black, three miles northwest from Glendale. Mr. Green reports a very good yield of grain.

CLAY-LENSON WEDDING IN TEMPE YESTERDAY

Fred E. Clay, Popular Fike Stage Driver, Joins the Ranks of the Married Folk

(Special to The Republican)
TEMPE, May 25.—It was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Clay of this city sprung on their friends when they were married at the Rev. John R. Rountree this morning shortly before noon.

Mr. Clay, who operates the local service car for the Freeman Hotel, was on his run this morning on his way to his best clothes, which he had made arrangements to leave for Douglas next week, where Mr. West will engage in business.

Mr. Clay was formerly Miss Alice Lenson, a popular young lady of Phoenix, and it was in that city that the young people first met. The unexpected wedding was a total surprise to the many of Clay's friends whom he has gradually come to know through his ever courteous services on the Fike line.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay will reside in Tempe permanently and expect to take up the regular routine of housekeeping the early part of next week.

Hayden Happenings

Commencement exercises were held at the M. E. church on Thursday evening. The class was to have presented a playlet but at the last decided to give a short program of the usual kind in which each member gave a little part of the history, prophecy, etc., of the class. The evening was a short one and the class made an excellent impression. Miss Julia Paul concluded the school exercises by a solo. Presentation of diplomas with appropriate remarks concluded the exercises.

The graduating class consists of Gila Cook, Thelma Dennis, Mildred Masterson, Louise Height, Ruby Reagan, Ernest Hogan, Jack McQuestion, Edgar Patton.

The second graduating class of Hayden and friends listened to an inspiring address on "Opportunity," by Dr. Morrison at the Methodist church on Sunday morning.

The address was illustrated with anecdotes which stamped the lesson indelibly upon the mind of the hearers and was greatly appreciated. The recital given at the M. E. church on Friday evening was a very enjoyable affair. Hayden's local talent was represented by the best musicians who were in good form on this occasion. Miss Phillips had not been heard for several months and her numbers were much appreciated.

Mrs. Rourke is a stranger to Hayden and her splendid contralto voice was much appreciated, especially the lullaby which she sang as an encore.

On Saturday afternoon, May 28th, a miscellaneous shower was given Miss Maud Miller at the home of Misses Roxie Sturgeon and Flora Schosburen, who with Miss Grace Wood were the hostesses. The guests were asked to bring flour or sugar sacks and each gave a lesson in economy and artistic house keeping to the bride to be. Sherbet and cake were served and the guests hemmed tea towels while engaged in lively conversation, or listening to music or recitations. Cupid brought in a little red wagon loaded with packages which proved to be gifts both beautiful and useful consisting of embroidered linens, crochet, cut glass, silver, crockery and kitchen implements.

GOOD PROGRAM PLANNED FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Tempe Citizens Will Offer Fitting Commemoration in Honor of Dead of Nation

The program committee in charge of the Memorial day exercises to be given Sunday afternoon in the city hall park, has about completed its work and assures the public of a program well worth while. It now seems that it may be possible to have the address of the day given by Hon. Carl Hayden. He is still in Tempe and has given his word that unless called away he will speak Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Lincoln's Gettysburg address will be read by Miss Mary Blair and the roll of honor will be read by Prof. Ira Payne. The music committee is still busy on its division of the program. The band is preparing some special music and there is also an assurance that several numbers each will be given by the normal male quartet and the high school ladies' octet.

The roll of the honored dead in the Double Butte cemetery is in the hands of Mrs. Corson and as there is much data lacking to make it entirely complete, Mrs. Corson would be pleased to receive information in regard to any of these who are now at rest.

CASE EXPERT HERE

Compulsory to owners of J. L. Case machines, automobile, thrasher or baler, O. M. Terrence, an expert from the factory at Racine, Wisconsin, is here to spend the next few months. Autos and threshers have been unbanded here regularly during the spring and fall. Terrence is here to see that they are properly set up and properly operated. His work as an expert will apply however to every variety of machine that the Case company has turned out, and only a phone call is required to have him on the ground adjusting the trouble. The new Case autos recently received by the local agent, W. H. Strong, are beauties and the popularity they are gaining is certain to make the machine a big seller.

GINNING COMPLETED

W. H. Williams, ginner at the local cotton plant during the fall season, returned night before last from Sacaton where he has just completed a month's run. The two stands operated by Williams at the government station were equipped with the automatic feeds, the only two machines ever set up in this country. Various people who have watched the machines operate were highly satisfied with the results and Mr. Williams after running through thirty bales is just about as confident that the feeder will eventually become an essential factor in any plant. Williams intends to confine his time to ranching during the summer months and return to the ginning for the Tempe exchange with the opening of the season in the fall.

SUBSTITUTE MAIL CARRIER Clyde Sandor is substituting for a few days as city mail carrier in the place of the regular carrier, Roy Rummage.
